

Effective November 1, 2014

The Pennsylvania Harness Racing Commission will permit non-medicated equine latex nasal strips to be used at racetracks under its jurisdiction. All other artificial means of opening nasal passages will continue to be prohibited.

Trainers are to inform the equipment checker regarding the use of a nasal strip for documentation as equipment worn.

Racetrack operators will ensure that the wagering public are informed of all horses using latex nasal strips by either program, public address system or television monitors for their knowledge.
